

Beauport

CONCIERGE

"A private, in-person concierge for corporate principals and private clients connected to Jersey — extending the discretion of private banking into everyday life, on and off the island."

CONTENTS

What's in this guide

01	Positioning & audience	03
02	The name	04
03	Personality & voice	05
04	Colour	06
05	Typography	07
06	Motion	08
07	Logo	09
08	Imagery direction	10
09	Do / Don't	11
10	Applications built	12

The gap this fills

Velocity Black and its peers are app-first — a chat window and a global network of partners you never meet. Excellent for a reservation, an upgrade, a ticket.

It works less well for what Jersey's actual client base needs most: a relocating CFO who needs a house, a school place and a trust structure lined up in the same quarter — or a fund's LPs flying in for an AGM who need the whole week handled, not just dinner.

Jersey's economy is built on discretion and personal relationships — private banking, trusts, funds. Beauport applies that same operating model to lifestyle and logistics.

Audience

- Fund managers, trustees and family offices coordinating board meetings, AGMs, LP visits and staff relocation to Jersey
- Principals and their families, often already Jersey-connected through a trust or fund structure

Both groups arrive by introduction — from a bank, a trust company, a law firm, or an existing client. Not a consumer app. No open sign-up.

Why "Beauport"

A real place, not an invented word

Beauport is an actual bay on Jersey's south coast — quiet, exclusive, largely private frontage. Naming the business after a specific, real piece of the island signals it actually knows Jersey, the way a client's own advisers do.

What it means

French for "beautiful harbour" — a literal translation that reads as effortlessly upmarket in English without needing explanation.

Usage

Say it: the French-Jersey pronunciation, roughly "boh-por" — never anglicised, never abbreviated.

Formal / legal use: Beauport Concierge. "Beauport" alone carries the wordmark, signage and everyday reference.

See page 09 for the full wordmark lockup and monogram usage.

Understated, precise, unhurried

Beauport sounds like the private banker who already knows the answer and doesn't need to prove it.

IS

- Declarative — short sentences that state a fact plainly
- Specific — "a table on the night you land," not "world-class dining"
- Quiet about access — never boasts about who it knows

IS NOT

- Exclamatory — no exclamation marks, ever
- Hyped — no "unlock," "elevate," "curated experiences"
- Eager — never "we'd love to," always "we will"

Sample lines

"By introduction only."

"One point of contact, on the island and off it."

"We handle it before you have to ask."

One accent per screen

Marine does the work. Brass is reserved for the monogram and a single hairline per page — never a fill colour, never a second palette.

Fraunces & Inter

A considered serif for headlines, paired with a clean, highly legible sans for everything that carries information.

05

TYPOGRAPHY

Fraunces & Inter

DISPLAY — FRAUNCES, FOR HEADLINES

A private concierge, not an app.

Set large, tight tracking, sentence case for long headlines. Never all-caps for headlines.

DISPLAY ITALIC — PULL QUOTES & EMPHASIS

"We'd rather do three things properly than fifty adequately."

BODY / UI — INTER

Beauport handles the logistics of corporate life and private life for principals connected to Jersey — in person, by a named team you speak to directly.

EYEBROW & LABEL STYLE — TRACKED CAPS, SMALL

ROLE	FACE / WEIGHT	SAMPLE
H1	Fraunces 450, clamp 2.5–4.25rem	Beauport
H2	Fraunces 500, clamp 1.9–2.75rem	Section heading
Lede	Inter 400, 1.125rem	Introductory paragraph
Body	Inter 400, 1rem	Running text, 65ch max
Eyebrow	Inter 600, 0.8125rem, +0.14em	LABEL

One orchestrated moment, not scattered effects

Motion is what separates "quiet luxury" from "budget minimalism" — it signals real craft, which earns trust from old money (restraint reads as confidence) and younger corporate wealth (polish reads as competence) alike.

- The hero loads once, deliberately — headline, image and CTA rise into place in a fixed sequence, like a case opening
- A large instrument dial turns almost imperceptibly behind the homepage headline — decorative only, never real navigational data
- Buttons fill like a rising tide rather than snapping colour
- Dividers draw themselves in, like an instrument taking a reading
- Parallax on horizon panels is a whisper — dimensional, never distracting
- Everything respects prefers-reduced-motion, with a full static fallback

The dial in practice — beauport/index.html

Wordmark-led, no crest

Primary lockup is wordmark-only. The monogram (a serif "B" inside a thin ring, read as a tide ring rather than a crest) is reserved for favicons and social avatars only.

Coast, not clichés

Current placeholder treatment — beauport/index.html

Horizon lines, granite, still water, low winter light — Jersey's coast, not a generic tropical concierge look.

This build ships without photography rather than stock: gradients and granite-texture panels stand in until real commissioned photography exists.

Rules

- No stock photos of unrelated locations
- No unnamed "clients" or fabricated testimonials
- No generic yacht/jet imagery presented as Beauport's own
- No people in imagery unless real, named and consented

Application rules

09

APPLICATION

Do / Don't

DO

- ✓ Let whitespace and the tide line do the separating
- ✓ Write specific, checkable claims only
- ✓ Keep every CTA the same verb — Request an introduction

DON'T

- × Exclamation marks, emoji, urgency language
- × Client logos or testimonials that aren't real and cleared
- × A second accent colour, gradients, or wave/anchor icons

The site, as built

A static, four-page site — home, services, philosophy, membership — built directly against this guide. No framework, no backend.

beauport/index.html — full page

Companion web guide (interactive, hosted)

Mobile — beauport/index.html

Desktop hero, instrument dial